The House committee on roads bridges and ferries by a vote of eight to four, reported unfavorably the Rockport causeway bill this is the bill which is sought to authorize the construction of a causeway across Aransas Pass Bay from Live Oak peninsula to Lamar peninsula

The Senate committee on education reported favorably today Senator Bee's rural high school bill, with amendments This committee will have a special hearing next Monday morning at 9 30 o'clock on he various bills now pending, providing for new sae normal colleges

Texas Company Report

Action may be taken on the Texas Company bill at the afternoon session of the Senate today The hearings on the mesure were concluded last night The bill is before Senate Judiciary committee No 1

The Senate committee on insurance this morning took up Senator Clark's claim that a slush fund had been raised by the insurance companies of the state to promote the passage of insurance laws

Senator Dowlin's bill which proposes to place interurbans under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission was given consideration today before the Senate committee on internal improvements The committee reported unfavorably on the bill

Another Division Planned

Wednesday afternoon the division of Texas was given further attention when Senator Hall sent up a joint resolution for the separation of the state into three states, the state of Texas to lose its identity as Texas while the three new states are to be named North Texas, South Texas and Jefferson

Senator Hall in his partition plan has respected the wishes of his colleague from Hall county and leaves the state of Jefferson to consist of the twenty fifth, Twenty sixth twenty eighth and Twenty ninth senatorial districts as Senator Johnson provides

South Texas is to be composed of the Eleventh, Twelfth Sixteenth Seventeenth, Eighteenth Nineteenth Twentieth, Twenty first, Twenty second, Twenty third and Twenty seventh senatorial districts

North Texas will take in the First Second, Third Fourth, Fifth Sixth Seventh Eighth Ninth Tenth Thirteenth, Fourteenth Fifteenth Thirtieth and Thirty first senatorial districts

Abilene is to be the capital of Jefferson, Austin of South Texas and Palestine of North Texas

Not For Prohibition

One of the noticeable features of the proposed division of the state is that the territory that will form South Texas will not be suspected of partiality for statewide prohibition

Colonel W T Eldridge of Sugarland head of the Imperial Sugar Company of Texas is here in support of the pure food law and to see that sugar is included in the list of products to be scrutinized and passed on by pure food censors He brings samples and correspondence showing that the American Sugar Refining company is suplying its Texas customers with a sugar called 'off granulated that is not up to 100 per cent standard and is sold for 10 cents less per 100 pounds in order to drive Texas manufacturers out of the market He is supplied with photographic copies of correspondence of agents and officers of the sugar trust showing he has good evidence to support his charges

One of the most prolonged fights before the committees affecting railroads is on before the common carriers committee of the house over the passage of the full crew bill This is a bill wherein the Brotherhood of Railway Trainment is seeking to amend the present law so as to increase the number of brakemen on trains of forty cars or more from two to three and to increase the number of brakemen on passenger trains of six or more cars from two to three It also provides that all switching crews shall put on an extra switchman

Producers are Objectors

So far the main opposition to this bill has not come from the railroads but from producers President Jackson of the cattle raisers appeared before the committee in protest as did also W N Waddell of Fort Worth a prominent cattle man Their objection to the bill is that it will at least prevent the securing of further reductions in freight rates or at least make a raise in freight rates more likely

In this fighting we captured the commanding officer of the battalion three other officers and 100 soldiers

On the left bank of the Vistula the fighting on the front continued February 2 with the same energy The enemy brought into this engagement fourteen regiments of first line troops and quantities of artillery including their heavy pieces The artillery fire was continued day and night The Germans have sustained immense losses but they continue to bring fresh troops forward to the fight

The fighting in the Carpathians is continuing and the engagements are becoming more and more tenacious in character It is apparent that considerable forces of Germans are engaged

VICE PRESIDENT MAY CAST DECIDING VOTE

SHIP BILL STILL HAS FIGHTING CHANCE TO AVOID DEFEAT

ABSENTEES ARE RUSHING BACK

Addministration Must Have Two Votes to Get Tie Leaving Marshall to Carry Bill

By Associated Press

Washington Feb 4—Vice President Marshall probably will cast the vote which decides whether the administration ship bill lives or dies at this session of Congress if the expectations of the leaders are fulfilled it will be one of the few instances on which the president of the United States has swung the balance

The last was when the late Vice President Sherman cast the deciding vote for the Bristow resolution which put a constitutional amendment for direct election of senators before the people

Administration Democrats reformed their lines today and found they had only 46 votes against the 48 Republicans waiting to send the bill back to the commerce committee without instructions Their only course was to stave off a vote while Senator Newlands hurried back from California and Senator Smith of South Carolina can come from the bedside of his wife With their votes the Democrats figure that barring surprises the contest will be even on the floor and the vice president will be called on for the deciding vote The administration leaders count him with them

With this program before them to day's proceedings were carried on as part of the plan to hold off a vote until the arrival of the two absent senators

In the course of the debate Senator Hoke Smith said It is understood that if the bill as now before the Senate goes to a vote it will be beaten It is also understood that if it is amended a majority of the Senate will vote for it

Reinforcements for both sides in the Senate fight over the administration ship bill arrived today but apparently did not change the situation Senator Lewis Democrat hurried back from Asheville North Carolina but his vote was offset by the arrival of Senator Fall Republican of New Mexico Senator Smith of South Carolina, Democrat notified administration leaders he could not come because of the critical illness of his wife

RUSSIANS ARE CLAIMING VICTORY IN CARPATHIANS

Germans Still On Offensive In East-Intentions Of Italy And Roumania Puzzle London

By Associated Press.

London, Feb. 4.—Emperor William's troops still are maintaining an offensive movement on the battlefields to the west of Warsaw in Russian Poland, but on the remainder of the eastern battle line the Russians claim to be exerting the greatest pressure, notably across the East Prussian frontier and in the Carpathian mountains. In the latter region the Russian claim that the fighting has gone against the Austro-German forces and the Russians are reported to have crossed into Hungary.

Turkish activities along the Suez Canal can hardly be classed yet as second rate scrimmages though the attack near Izmaili, midway between the Red Sea and the Mediterraneon shows that the Turks are pushing farther away from the coast of the Mediterranean.

The newspapers of both England and Germany are filled with discussions and speculations regarding the outcome of the proposed widespread German submarine activity against merchant shipping and this phase of warfare is the absorbing topic throughout Great Britain.

For some reasons not explained here there is a marked change of tone relative to the predictions as to when Roumania will join the allies. There likewise has been less talk in London of Italy's entry into the conflict.

OWING TO THE

HIGH COST OF FLOUR

We are compelled to make a change in the style and size of our loaf bread and beginning Tuesday, February 2, will sell but one size.

20 Ounce Loaves For 10c

We believe this will be better than making 10 oz. loaves at 5c, a greater portion of which would be crust and would dry out much quicker. The 20 oz. loaves will easily keep two days and will go further than two of the smaller size. Tickets will be sold as heretofore, 20 for $1.00, and two tickets will be accepted for one of new size loaf. The public understands the great advance in flour, and we trust that all will appreciate the necessity for this slight change.

The former practice of greasing the tops of the loaf will be discontinued, being more sanitary.

CHILD'S DEATH MAY RESULT FROM KICK

FOUR YEAR OLD BOY RECEIVES PROBABLY FATAL IN JURY

SKULL IS LAID OPEN BY BLOW

Child Hits Mule With Stick While Playing In Lot—Little Chance For Recovery

Edgar the four year old son of Thomas I Riley division road master for the Fort Worth & Denver, was kicked in the head by a mule and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday afternoon The child's skull was crushed and his brains could be seen plainly through the broken skull He also suffered great loss of blood There was faint hope today that the child would survive

The accident happened in the feed lot at Black's meat market Mrs Riley had gone out into the country to look at a farm which her husband was on a deal to purchase leaving the little boy at the home of Ray Black With Mr Black's four year old son Harry the child had gone into the feed lot when one of the delivery boys was hitching up a wagon When the delivery boy hitched up he told the two little boys to leave the yard as there was another mule loose in the yard This the boys failed to do A few minutes later a negro passing through the alley saw the little Riley boy in the act of pinching the mule with a stick Before the negro could cry out a warning the mule had kicked the child in the head sending him rolling on the ground The negro ran to pick him up and cried for assistance The child was carried into the house and a physician summoned At first no hope whatever was entertained that the child could live but up to noon today he had never lost consciousness and continued bright and strong despite the great loss of blood and the terrible wounds

Mr Riley left yesterday afternoon for a trip north on the Denver and it was some time before he could be located The little boy was an unusually bright and handsome child His mother did not learn of the accident until she returned from her trip to the country about an hour and a half after it happened

About one year ago Hunt county voted bonds to the amount of one million dollars for good roads and the other day a contract was let for forty miles of road to be constructed of concrete In the judgment of the Hunt county officials concrete roads are more lasting more satisfactory and in the long run less expensive than gravel

Miss Esther Cleveland, aged 23 years is training to become a Red Cross nurse and will go to Europe to engage in her profession She is a daughter of the late ex President Cleveland and was born in the White House Miss McAdoo a daughter of the secretary of the treasury is also a Red Cross nurse and has sailed for France to take up her work

Wichita was one of the few counties of Texas that recorded an increase in the number of poll tax receipts issued this year over last year. The increase was small, it is true, but in nearly all other counties a decrease or falling off was recorded Another indication that our people have more money now than last year at this time is the fact that the tax collector's office show that there are a less number of delinquent property tax payers this year than was the case last year There are not many counties in the State that were able to make such a showing

Most everybody believes that there should be a tax on automobiles and the money collected from such a tax levy used for the improvement of the public roads With this in view a bill known as the Tillotson-Savage bill has been reported favorably from the House committee This fact has caused automobile owners to begin to make figures In the first place the bill proposes that a State engineer shall be employed at a salary of $4,000 per year and there will be other minor positions to be filled According to estimates made by G. I. Cade, secretary of the Dallas Automobile Club the tax on automobiles in the State will bring in revenue to the amount of $120,000 annually and out of this it will require about $80,000 to pay the salaries of the new officers the passage of the bill will create leaving only $40,000 with which to pay other expenses and repair the roads If his figures are correct then it would seem that aside from furnishing soft snaps for a bunch of office-seekers the enactment of the measure will be of no benefit whatever to the State and may be an added expense

What is known as the Gibson bill now pending in the State Senate provides for the amending of the Robertson insurance law in such a way as to relieve outside companies from being required to make any investments in Texas remitting all taxes due by the twenty-one companies that left the State about seven years ago on account of the enactment of the Robertson law and that ceased to write insurance in this State through these companies have continued to collect premiums on policies written prior to that time The Robertson law provides that life insurance companies shall invest at least [illegible] per cent of their reserve on Texas policies in Texas securities The twenty-one life insurance companies that withdrew from the State seven years ago all told had less than one million of their profits invested in Texas securities Since the Robertson law went into effect, out of State life insurance companies have invested in Texas securities (mostly real estate loans) more than $30,000,000, and in addition to this several State life insurance companies have built up splendid businesses and the State companies have invested in State securities more than $20,000,000 If these figures are true and they have never yet been successfully contradicted, then why should the Robertson law be amended or repealed? By doing so, will it keep Texas money in Texas as this law?

Though Bryan has been in the public eye since 1896 his political enemies have never yet been able to connect him with graft or scandal, or any act that can be construed as dishonorable or unbecoming a statesman of his standing or ability About all they can say against him is that he wrote a letter recommending that deserving Democrats be given jobs now held by Republicans But that is not to Bryan's discredit It is rather a recommendation Our idea of a desirable Democrat is one who elevated to power and position by Democratic votes will not stop cutting off the heads of political opponents just as long as there is a desirable Democrat left who wants a job that is being held by a Republican. In other words begin at the top and never stop wielding the head-chopper till he reaches the bottom That's politics It is the correct way to build up and make strong any political organization Democratic Republican or what not Mr Bryan is really a better Democrat than some of us have been giving him credit

WOMEN'S PEACE PARTY BRANCH ORGANIZED HERE

The Wichita Travel Club, an exclusive study club at the regular meeting this morning joined with one of the most important movements of the day—that of the organization of the "Woman's Peace Party," adopting the platform of the party as adopted by the first organization in Washington D C the first of this year—1915 This is the first movement to affiliate with the concerted appeal of the women of the United States against war of any of the clubs of Wichita Falls, and also one of the first in the State the Travel Club being among the pioneers in the movement in Texas Foremost in this new movement are the famous women leaders of the nation Mrs. Carrie Catt, Dr Anna Howard Shaw and Dr Dr Anna Spencer The platform of the Women's Peace Party" follows

The purpose of this organization is to enlist all American women in arousing the nations to respect the sacredness of human life and to abolish war The following is adopted as our platform

1 The immediate calling of a convention of neutral nations in the interest of early peace

2 Limitation of armaments and the nationalization of their manufacture

3 Organized opposition to militarism in our country

4 Education of youth in the ideals of peace

5 Democratic control of foreign policies

6 The further humanizing of governments by the extension of the franchise to women

7 Concert of Nations to supersede Balance of Power

9 The substitution of an international police for rival armies and navies

10 Removal of the economic causes of war

11 The appointment by our government of a commission of men and women with an adequate appropriation, to promote international peace

The conference further adopted the following resolution

Resolved That we denounce with all the earnestness of which we are capable the concerted attempt now being made to force this country into still further preparedness for war We desire to make a solemn appeal to the higher attributes of our common humanity to help us unmask this menace to our civilization

LAKE MICHIGAN ICE JAM CAUSES LOSS OF STEAMER

Crew and Passenger Manage to Make Way To Safety and No Lives Were Lost.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Feb 4—The steamer Iowa of the Goodrich Transit Company sank in Lake Michigan about three miles off the river mouth today after being threshed by what lake men declare was the heaviest ice jam seen in years off the Chicago harbor The crew, numbering 70 and one passenger, clambered to the ice pack and the vessel settled and struggled over the ice hummocks to shore Some reached the government break waters and were rescued by tugs and others landed at different points. Those who reached safety first declared no one had been lost The Iowa beat en back from the Chicago harbor Tuesday night, made a fresh start from Milwaukee last night and with the Racine and other vessels was caught in the ice floes off the harbor here this morning The vessel, valued at $150,000 carried a miscellaneous cargo from $50,000 to $75,000 in value Officials of the company said it was fully insured

New Year's Resolutions

We make them and we break them but there is one resolution that we should make and keep and that is to trade at home Every merchant and business man living in the city of Wichita Falls is dependent upon you for patronage Without you they could not exist Without them you could not have the line of stuff you do In trading at home however you must demand equal values dollar for dollar that you would get in Dallas or St Louis With a fair comparison I will guarantee you are getting that or should for the business men of your city can buy just as cheap in Eastern markets as Dallas men can and the business man here can operate with much less expense than the big city house does Now the holiday season is over Many of you received photographs from friends at a distance It is up to you to reciprocate in kind We can assure you just as fine work in our studio as you can get in Dallas or Fort Worth and we do not have the heavy operating expense the city studios have, consequently we divide the profits with you Give us a trial We will convince you and when we succeed we will all be happy Call and see us It costs you nothing The photos of your friends speak for themselves Remember the place

Good work and good service brings good customers, while cheap, undependable service brings customers who do not appreciate the best. TIN CANS

The ordinary one pound tin coffee can costs the Roaster five and one-half cents, and when empty is of no value except as an ornament (?) for the back yard.
But the roaster who ships any considerable distance must use it in order that his products reach the consumer in even tolerable condition.
As we roast every day it is not necessary for us to go to this expense.

It costs the roaster an average of seven cents per pound for advertising, traveling expenses, credit and bookkeeping department, etc., to sell the products to the retailer who also must have a profit.
WE PAY NO PROFIT—Between the Planter and Consumer—Does it not stand to reason that we can give you better value for your money, to say nothing of the superior drink quality of FRESH ROASTED COFFEE.

At The Theaters

The Majestic.

John Bunny is here again and in a two part comedy. "Bunny's Little Brother" and the king of laughter and mirth, is supreme in this picture. Our friend Flora Finch has a prominent part in the fun. The story of the picture is this: Bunny's little brother, Joe, looks very much like John. His wife thinks it is John himself, slightly thinner from his fat reducing efforts at the gymnasium. She will not be convinced until she sees the two together, after Bunny returns from Dr. Shrinkem's anti-fat emporium. Before John's arrival, Joe has a lot of fun with the wife, by flying into a terrible rage and upsetting things. John is pleased to meet his brother and more so because his wife is convinced that John is a good natured old dearie after all. She does not get angry either when she learns that it was prearranged by John and Joe. There are two laugh makers in one in this comedy, booked for the Majestic tonight. Flora Finch is a third laugh maker and everybody is assured of an abundance of fun.

Mabel Trunelle is featured in "The Vanishing of Olive" a second of "Olive's Opportunities."

The Gem.

James Morrison and Dorothy Kelley are featured in "Saved from a Life of Crime" a two part drama that shows how a human life is shaped by circumstance and environment.

Becoming imbued with a lawless spirit, Tom, a street waif, of twelve, holds up an old woman with a toy pistol, robs her of a dollar and gets away. Exhibiting the money to some of his companions, the boy proceeds to give them all an ice cream treat. The feast is interrupted by the police, who nab Tom. He is taken to court charged with highway robbery, and the judge places him on probation. The probation officer sees Tom has the making of a good man in him, should he be placed in the proper environment, and when Mr. Barnes, a wealthy philanthropist, with Helen, an only daughter, expresses a wish to adopt a boy, the officer suggests he interview Tom. The lad makes a very favorably impression on Mr. Barnes and the latter adopts him. Amidst the surroundings of refinement and wealth, the boy grows up to be a fine young man, with an aspiration to become a lawyer. Ten years later, he becomes a very prominent and successful one. He falls in love with Helen, and she with him, but realizing his humble origin, Tom keeps silent. At a Christmas gathering, the girl is wooed by Bonner, a man of wealth and social position, but she refuses his proposals of marriage. Tom determines to leave that night, sacrificing himself to gain, as he thinks, Helen's happiness. Just as he is leaving, he discovers that the house has caught fire from a carelessly thrown cigarette, and starting in the Christmas tree, is spreading rapidly. In the excitement and danger, Bonner proves himself a coward, while Tom proves a hero.

The Lydia Margaret.

The Clipper trio, "three stars of 1915" open at the Lydia Margaret today. Their offering consists of comedy and harmony singing and the bill is augmented by Cline and Smith "One girl and one more" who have an entertaining variety act of singing, talking and dancing. In the movie program Ben Wilson and Anna Luther are featured in "Hounded," a two part drama telling the story of the hopeless struggle of a convict to lead a clean life after his release from prison.

Many a convict, if given a chance upon his release from prison, would be only too willing to "go straight." Often when the gates of Sing Sing or the state prison open upon the time expired convict, he finds that he is still a hunted man.

Police keep well informed of his new address; he is shadowed by detectives, and if public clamor demands the arrest of some one for a crime, frequently the convict is "framed" and clapped again into jail. With his record against him the convict has little chance of acquittal before a prejudiced jury, and a few weeks after hi sarrest the prison gates yawn again before him.

Even if the police do not force him to act as a stool pigeon, the convict is constantly open to temptations from his old pals. He may move to another city and attempt to do the right thing, but in prison he has made hundreds of acquaintances who upon their release, scatter to the ends of the earth and he is soon found out.

The Empress.

Winnifred Greenwood, Ed Coxen, Charlotte Burton and George Field are featured in a two part American "In Tune."

Edward Stanley, a well known writer, marries a society butterfly with no appreciation of his work. She is annoying him constantly and interfering with his studies. When he tries to show her his point of view and how imperative it is that he should have seclusion, she takes it as a personal affront, declaring that he is utterly indifferent to her enjoyment. Later, when business troubles come upon the impractical man of letters and he is obliged to sell his home to make good, Bella Stanley indignantly leaves him and goes to live with her mother. Not long after this, she is killed in an automobile accident. Meanwhile, Stanley, who is trying to ferret out who is to blame for things going wrong in his office, has occasion to investigate the life of his chief stenographer, whom he finds to be a girl of exceptional sympathy and character. Through Ida Drew's kindness to a poor messenger boy, however, the mismanagement of certain "trust funds" is traced to Robert Long, Stanley's bookkeeper. Stanley writes a novel "In Tune" revealing the sympathetic relations beteen himself and Ida. When he gives it to her to read, she recognizes the chief characters in the romance—and not long afterward, she becomes the wife of the author.

A Tribute To Dr. G. C. Rankin

(By Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald in the Fort Worth Record)

Rev. Dr George C Rankin is dead He closed his eyes in eternal sleep at his home in Dallas Tuesday and when his soul took its flight there was removed from the mortal existence of men one who for a quarter of a century had been a forceful figure and zealous partisan and active participant in the religious advancement as well as the political history of Texas.

For many years he had been the editor of the Christian Advocate, and had made it a power among the church newspapers of the United States. He wielded a virile pen. He viewed the world through the eyes of a churchman. He was a crusader as keen as the crusaders of old who sought to wrest the Holy City from the defiling touch of the Crescent and the Koran. He was fearless, and he was dogmatic. They called him "the fighting Methodist of Texas."

He had a warm heart. When the combat was over he did not bear malice. While it was on he gave blow for blow and though his head might have been bloody he never winced or asked for quarter.

He had wonderful ability, he was Scotch and Irish and had all the pugnacity of the fighting race He could smash a political opponent today and extend a helping hand tomorrow.

He had enemies who hated him and followers who idolized him In politics he was for years a potential force, and he knew the game. He was as much at home in a primary convention as in the editorial den of his newspapers or in the pulpit of the house of God.

He never followed. He was born to lead.

If he had not been called to the ministry and had invaded the field of politics he would have made his mark and would have become a national figure in the councils of the Democratic party.

In Texas Methodism his name was a household word In the field of politics it was a household word.

In the years gone by he was the Peter the Hermit of the prohibition cause in Texas. He threw down the gauntlet to John Barleycorn almost a third of a century ago.

Defeat did not dismay him. Reverses only made him fight the harder. He was a glutton for work, a human ox and ever tireless. He fought the saloon, he fought the reservation, he fought gambling in the days when it required never to lead a forlorn hope in Texas

He is dead now and there will be flowers for this wonderful crusader who was the stormy petrel for so many years of Texas politics and whose white plume ever waved at the head of the advance guard of those who considered themselves consecrated to the work of giving battle to sin and eliminating the alleged causes in this land of ours.

When George C. Rankin trained his guns on his political foemen in Texas, prohibition wasn't even a white man's hope, all cities and towns of any size had their reservations where the daughters of Babylon and their male companions walked in the primrose path of dalliance. Public gambling was prevalent everywhere.

At all race tracks, pools were sold, and in the capital of our state saloons never closed from January until January.

He considered himself the David of the prohibition cause and men who had no sympathy with his plan of making the world moral by law must concede that his pen and his tongue created a revolution in moral conditions throughout this empire state and that his influence was as potential as that possessed by any man who has ever figured in the history of Texas since the close of the war between the states.

When armour clad, ready for the fray, his pen was scorching and his tongue was blistering. In social life he was a lovable and companionable man. He loved a clever joke. He could crack a good joke and he was hail fellow well met with his craftsmen, whether of the pulpit or the pen

He fought for his church and his convictions.

He was battle scarred in the service of Methodism and the innumerable campaigns which he led against John Barleycorn since the prohibition wave began to sweep over this country.

He was a power in the councils of the prohibition party. He was a bold politician but not a resourceful one. He was the founder and editor of the Home and State and that newspaper he made a terror to his enemies.

He had one ambition, even greater than his other ambitions, to be a bishop of the church which he had served from youthful manhood.

This was denied him Then he realized that the men who do the rough fighting for church or party, men who are ever on the firing line giving blows and taking them, men who make the sacrifices and receive the wounds and carry the scars are not those who are remembered when the rich gifts and honors and emoluments are bestowed

These are for the sons of Mary.

The sons of Martha are the men who blaze the trail, who fight the battles, who never know when they are whipped, and who die in harness, unrewarded but not forgot.

A giant has departed from one of the houses of Israel. He was a gladiator in his time. He was long on the road and never ran up the white flag. He never retreated He never called for a furlough. He never served in the commissary department or in the camp of the sutler. He lived and fought according to his lights and was rugged and sturdy and masterful either in the hour of victory or the hour of defeat.

When the bell ringer called he answered "Ready" His eyes are closed, his hands are folded and his spirit at rest. "Peace to his ashes and sweet repose for his soul" is the prayer of one who was his political foeman and his personal friend.

INFANT MORTALITY SUBJECT OF REPORT

CHILDREN'S BUREAU OF DEPARTMENT OF LABOR ISSUES FIGURES

DOLLAR MARK'S EFFECT SHOWN

Deaths of Infants in Inverse Ratio to Earnings of Their Fathers, It Is Found

Washington, Feb. 4—The Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor issues today the first report in its study of infant mortality in the United States.

The report emphasizes the fact that this is only the first item in a proposed extended inquiry. While it carefully avoids conclusions, certain conditions are pointed out as coincident with a high infant death rate in the one city under consideration.

It finds that the infant death rate varied in different parts of the same city. In the poorest section, where sanitary conditions were at their worst, the rate was 271 per thousand babies, or more than five times that of the choice residential section of the city.

The deaths of the babies investigated were in inverse proportion to the earnings of their fathers. Babies whose fathers earned less than ten dollars a week died at the rate of 256 per thousand. Those whose fathers earned twenty-five or more dollars a week died at the rate of 84 per thousand.

Artificial Feeding

The report shows that artifically-fed babies died at a much more rapid rate than breast-fed babies. In the earliest months of the baby's life exclusive breast-feeding appears to be be the only safe method. Only 46.6 babies per thousand died under one year of age when breast fed for at least three months, as against 165.8 per thousand who died when fed exclusively on artificial food up to the age of three months.

Where mothers were employed a large part of the time in heavy work babies died at a much more rapid rate. In one group of 19 mothers whose babies all died, 15 had been keeping lodgers, an arduous occupation among the foreign women, where the wife without extra charge often washes and irons for the lodgers and buys and prepares their food.

The city bears its share of responsibility for infant deaths. A high rate of infant deaths was found in coincidence with neglected streets and insanitary housing. The report shows for 135 miles of streets and alleys only 41 miles of sewers and 36 outlets, only 64 per cent of the streets paved, and but 11 per cent of the alleys. In houses where water had to be carried in from outdoors, the infant death rate was 198 per thousand, as against 118 per thousand where water was piped into the house.

Johnstown Taken as Type

These findings are based on a report as to infant mortality conditions in Johnstown, Pa. Other cities now being studied are Manchester, N. H., Brockton, Mass., and Saginaw, Mich.

The city of Johnstown was chosen as the first town to be studied because of its interest as a type of town in which there are no large industries employing women, and because its size and its good birth registration permitted a study with the limited staff which the Bureau could at first assign to the work.

In her letter submitting the Johntown report to the Secretary of Labor Miss Julia C. Lathrop, Chief of the Children's Bureau, states that the subject of infant mortality was chosen for the first field inquiry because of its profound importance in our national life. According to an estimate of the U. S. Census Bureau at least 300,000 babies die annually in this country which means aproximately one baby out of every eight under one year of age. Leading sanitarians say that if proper measures of hygiene and sanitation were observed this number could be indefinitely reduced. The Children's Bureau is trying to learn the conditions of life most favorable for American babies.

Agents Visit Mothers

Every mother of a Johnstown baby born in 1911 was visited by women agents of the Children's Bureau and information obtained about the family surroundings of the baby, how his father earns the money necessary for his care, and how much he earns, whether his mother works outside the home and how heavy her work is within the home, whether the city streets are safe, the water pure, the milk clean The subjects considered in this first report, city and street environment, housing, nationality, mother's age, literacy, the family earnings, etc show some of the lines along which the Children's Bureau expects to find informatianleading to a reduction of the high rates of infant mortality in the United States.

The report of infant mortality conditions in Johnstown was written by Miss Emma Duke one of the women investigators of the Bureau. This report, like the other publications of the Bureau, may be obtained free of charge upon application to the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.
